Corsicana is renewing a request to the Texas Highway Department that it install highway signs establishing new speed zones on highways within the corporate limits the city feels are needed for traffic safety.

City Manager Jack Russell said he was making the request by letter Thursday to John G. Keller, district engineer of the Dallas District, renewing Corsicana's request for the changes made originally in mid-November, 1971.

Political campaign supplementary expense records filed in the office of the Navarro County Clerk by candidates participating in the May 6 local primary election have been submitted by most candidates, but a few have failed to meet the May 12 filing deadline. Records available at the County Courthouse included expenditures of the two men who ran for the 13th District Court Judgeship.

Incumbent Judge James C. Sewell listed supplementary payments of $1,242.03 in addition to the $3,825.65 listed in a pre-election report. Total expenses are $5,067.68. He shows that a total of $700 in gifts was received for the campaign. These gifts were received from Beard & Kultgen of Waco, $250; Dunnam & Dunnam of Waco, $100; Bernard Rapport of Waco, $100; and George E. Pletcher of Houston, $250. Debts incurred by Sewell in the campaign totaled $228.30.

The other candidate for the district judge post, Donald Nicholson, listed supplementary payments of $1,749.31 in addition to the $3,024.89 listed in his preelection financial report. Total expenses were $4,774. Nicholson listed total gifts received as being $1,169. The donor of a $300 gift received in May 1972 was listed only as "anonymous".

Only two of the candidates in the race for Navarro County Sheriff filed their expense amounts. The two who have not submitted their reports are Jerry Shelton and Owen Gober.

Incumbent Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse lists expenses as $751.56 and no gifts.

The other candidate for the sheriff position, Howe French, listed supplementary payments of $71.60 in addition to the $680.20 listed in his preelection report.

In the Navarro County Commissioner Precinct I race, candidate Earnest B. Featherston listed supplementary expenses as $82.20. His pre-election report showed a total of $820.24. Total campaign expenses, therefore, were $902.44.

Another candidate in the Pct. I race, J, A. (Junior) Penney, listed total expenses as $1,455.65. Gifts received were $60 from R. B. Jones. Total gifts made by him were listed as $100.94.

The other candidate for the Pct. I commissioner post, Clint Bell, did not file a report.

None of the three candidates in the Precinct 3 county commissioner race filed a financial report. These candidates are Ellis Montgomery, Wallace

Pryor and Thomas Dyer. All three candidates in the Justice of the Peace, Precinct I, Place 2 race filed financial reports. James Derryberry listed total payments as $913.55. Of the total $30 gifts received, the donors were Wilburn Derryberry of Corsicana, $20, and W. B. Mayfield of Corsicana, $10. Another candidate for the Pct. 2 peace justice post, G. W. (Dub) O'Neal, listed expenses totaling $553.27 with no gifts

The other candidate in the Pct. 2 peace justice race, Aubrey Smith, listed supplementary expenses as $22.74. His pre-election report listed expenses totaling $841.30.

All candidates who were opposed for office in the May 6 primary election this year were required to file the supplementary financial reports. Candidates who ran unopposed were not required to file these reports. W. H. Tipton was unopposed for the position as Pct. I, Place I justice of the peace, and Jerry Sam Scott was unopposed in his bid for office of Navarro County tax assessor-collector.

Judge Denies Injunction, But...

Stewart Testimony Raises More Questions

By ROB MECKEL Sun Staff Writer

Testimony of Corsicana Independent School District Board of Trustees Chairman Maco Stewart in 13th District Court Friday afternoon opened the door to more unanswered questions concerning student suspensions as result of a school-sponsored trip to Galveston and Houston on May 3, 1972.

Judge Charles D. Mathews, a visiting judge from the 200th Judicial Court, Travis County, presided over the hearing in which Dr. Lester E. McGary, in behalf of his minor son, Richard McGary, sought a temporary injunction against the school board. Plaintiffs asked that the school board be prevented from enforcing an allegedly unwritten rule which would authorize a teacher to refuse to accept school work assigned during a suspension period but delivered after the suspension period. arguments, Judge Mathews told plaintiff's attorney William J. McKie, "I'm going to deny the temporary injunction. You may have your exception."

The Judge said the basis of the decision was that "Before the courts will established by law for the school government must first be exhausted—in other words, the party must exhaust his administrative remedy before coming to the court.''

He pointed out that Dr. McGary must first present his case through administrative channels such as the Texas State Board of Education before it can fall under jurisdiction of the courts

Dr. McGary said in his testimony that he had contacted State Board of Education officials by telephone to ask about the validity of the alleged rule, but that he had made no written request for a hearing before that board. He said he plans to submit a request, but that it was necessary for the court to grant the temporary injunction because school is ending and grades are being issued. The McGary youth was suspended from classes at CHS for the days of

Monday and Tuesday, May 8 and 9, 1972 for allegedly having "a bottle of wine" in his possession during the chaperoned trip to the Houston-Galveston area. assume jurisdiction, the remedies During the suspension period, his English instructor, Mrs. Marianne Anderson, assigned a theme to the class. The teacher refused to accept the theme upon the youth's return to school and gave him a "zero" for the day of Wednesday, May 10, 1972.

On the witness stand Friday, Mrs. Anderson testified that refusal of the theme was based on "the rule."

Defense attorney Robert Gladney asked her what the McGary youth's grades have been for the past semester. She said he now has a 68 average as compared to 81 points during the fall semester. She noted that the youth was absent from school one day during the fall semester and a total of 35 days this semester. .

"The grade in question here was a oneday assignment and I considered it a daily grade," she said, adding that the "zero" grade, on a semester basis, would make a difference of two points, and on a yearly basis, a difference of one point, on his final English grade. She said he is passing the course at this time since his grade must be below 60 in order to fail the course.

As result of the teacher's testimony, Judge Mathews said in making his ruling that the defense attorney had not shown irreparable damage or injury since the youth will not fail the course as result of the grade in question. He said that apparently the reason the youth's grades went down was because of the 35 absences this semester.

A difference in testimony came before the court concerning an alleged closed meeting of the school board of trustees following a regular board meeting on May 15, 1972.

McGary testified that he did not dispute the suspension of his son for the two days, but he objected to the rule affecting his son's grade. He said he was not allowed an open hearing and was heard in the closed session. Chairman Stewart testified that McGary was present at the regular board meeting on May 15 and that he did request an open hearing. Stewart said he denied the open hearing because it was against board policy to consider matters which have not first been presented, in written request form, to school officials. He said the reason for this policy was that, in the past, "people would drop in and out, and meetings became very lengthy and drawn-out." Stewart also testified that the board went into executive session during this May 15 meeting the press was asked to leave. The purpose of the closed session, he said, was the discussion of personnel

Stewart said that while he was in the restroom, he was told that Dr. McGary wanted to talk to him during the executive session. The chairman then testified that he refused to permit Dr. McGary to speak during the executive meeting, but that the board would have a "discussion session after the executive session." When the plaintiff's attorney pressed the board chairman for answers con-

sell out," Stewart said. "He said he had some film." "Do you mean of some things that happened at Galveston?" inquired His question was never answered as

Stewart then loudly asked the attorney if he would like to know what the board members discussed during the executive McKie looked at Stewart on the witness stand and calmly said he would listen if the chairman wanted to talk about it. Then, all eyes in the courtroom turned to Judge Mathews who broke the silence by turning to Stewart and saying, "If it doesn't take too long."

Stewart, however, did not elaborate on the proceedings of the executive session. The hearing began at 1:30 p.m. and ended shortly before 3 p.m. Friday.

Talking About Social Security

By DAVID M. HELMER Social Security Manager

Q: How often do I have to pay the $68 deductible for hospital care under Medicare?

A. The hospital deductible occurs once in a "benefit period". The benefit period begins when you first enter a hospital and ends 60 days after you have not been an inpatient in a hospital or skilled care nursing home. If you re-enter a hospital before you have been home 60 days, you are still in the benefit period and do not have to pay another deductible.

Q: I receive social secutiry student benefits and I will be 22 in February, but I won't finish school until May. Will my checks continue until I finish school?

A. No. The benefits will stop the month before the month you reach age 22.

Q: What is considered full time attendance in college for social security purposes?

A. Full-time attendance is usually considered to be a course load of 12 semester hours or more, but the Social Security Administration will accept the school's standard for a full time student.

If your club, organization or class desires information on social security, we will be glad to furnish a speaker and informational pamphlets to your group. Call 874-8206 for further information.

$100,000 Damage in Warehouse Fire

By MARY LOVE BIGONY Sun Staff Intern

Fire swept through a large Universal-Rundle Corp. warehouse on E. Hwy. 31 for four and a half hours early Thursday morning, leaving up to $100,000 damage

Four pumper trucks and ten men answered the call to the building at 1:35 a.m. Thursday. Firemen surrounded the building with the units, soaking the

Station Operators Hailed

By BETTY JEAN CLAY Sun Staff Writer

In case they had not realized it previously, the city's score of service station operators were emphatically made aware "you are the Goodwill Ambassadors of Corsicana - you see people who pass through town that possibly no one else ever sees".

This point was made repeatedly at a dinner at Holiday Inn Tuesday night given by the Chamber of Commerce and the gasoline dealers to salute service station operators.

The kudos were directed to some 60 station operators, their wives and almost a dozen distributors by Ben Sharpley, master of ceremonies, and Herb Silverberg, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Team which endeavors to bring new industry

After noting that station operators are frequently the only contacts the tourists have, Emcee Sharpley said the whole purpose of the dinner had stemmed from the fact "We of the Chamber want to express our appreciation for what you do. We appreciate you as service station operators for taking care of Corsicana."

Operators were reminded by Silverberg that "every human being who comes to Corsicana comes in by highway even if he lands at the airport," and, whether an industrial scout looking for a location or a tourist passing through, the new arrival gets his first impression good or bad — from the attitude or what information he receives in conversation with the attendant.

perimeter of the warehouse to prevent the flames from spreading to the nearby Universal-Rundle and Jetco Chemical plants. The blaze was extinguished around 6 a.m. Station Commander Bill Richardson said the building was completely gutted, with only sections of the walls remaining standing.

The 25,000 square foot warehouse contained finished and packed bathtubs and shower units, products still in progress, and raw materials, said Julian Bell, Universal-Rundle manager. Also inside the building, said Bell, was a 1.5 ton 1970 Chevrolet dump truck, damaged beyond further use. Bell said he knows of nothing which was salvaged from the warehouse. Universal-Rundle had used the building, formerly the cattle barn for the Corsicana Fair, for storing material since 1970. Bell said finished products had been stored in the warehouse for about six months. "The value of the contents of the building is probably between $30,000 and $50,000," said Bell. "The building itself would have to be worth about $50,000."

Fire Chief Charlie Tieman said no cause has been determined yet. The fire appeared to have spread from the middle of the long building.

Bell said he knows of no plans for replacing the warehouse, he said it was on a site marked for future expansion of the plant, although no definite plans for expansion had been made.

There was no information available concerning insurance coverage of the building and its contents, and Bell was in conference with insurance adjustors late Thursday morning.

Sun Study Builds Fire About Trash?

By ROB MECKEL Sun Staff Writer

Navarro County Commissioners today unanimously passed a resolution to begin immediate study to determine the feasibility of developing a countywide system for disposing of trash to eliminate the "growing trash pollution problem." (The Daily Sun yesterday began dramatizing the problem in a series concluded in today's edition.)

Pct. 4 Comm. Billy Hargrove began discussion on the need for solutions to trash pollution around the Navarro Mills Lake area. He voiced concern that trash is being dumped into creeks and roadsides in that area and during periods of rain is washed out into the lake which is the drinking water supply for much of Navarro County.

Hargrove said the trash situation is a growing problem and affects many areas in this county.

is," Hargrove said.

County Judge Kenneth Douglas said "This is not a problem confined to the Navarro Mills area...I think it's time the County get involved and take steps, either by use of land-fill, or getting dump areas for these small communities. We have to do something about it."

Douglas said the Commissioners Court should encourage the County Sheriff to find out who is dumping trash, and make a strong effort to prosecute those who are dumping. The motion to conduct the feasibility study included a provision to do this in cooperation with officials from the cities of Corsicana, Kerens, Frost, Blooming Grove, Rice, Dawson, Richland and any other incorporated area with similar responsibility of maintaining its own dump system.

A total of 125 persons voted in the office of Navarro County Clerk Clyve Riddels during the absentee voting period for the Democratic primary runoff election. The absentee ballot voting period ended at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Riddels said today that in addition to votes cast in his office, a total of 32 absentee ballots were mailed out and 14 have been returned. Voters with absentee ballots have until 1 p.m. Saturday to return the ballots by mail; they

Races Suggest Heavy Voter Turn-out Here

By KIT BAUMAN

"Golden Circle" Editor Voter turnout for Saturday's runoff elections is expected to be heavy due to a trio of ruggedly contested statewide races and heavy handful of important local contests.

Navarro County Democrats will be voting for their choices in the Frances Farenthold-Dolph Briscoe gubernatorial contest and the Bill Hobby-Wayne Connally lieutenant governor match-up. Former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough seeks his party's nomination over Barefoot Sanders in the U.S. Senate Locally, there are five important races to be decided. Forrest Green and Jay Bobbitt seek the Texas House of Representatives seat for Navarro and Ellis counties, while incumbent Sheriff Rufus Pevenouse hopes to be re-elected over his opponent, Jerry Shelton.

J. A. (Junior) Penney and Clinton J. Bell are on the ballot for county commissioner, Precinct 1. Precinct 3 County Commissioner Ellis Montgomery hopes to retain his seat in a runoff battle with Wallace Pryor.

Justice of the Peace Aubrey Smith, who was appointed earlier this year to replace Sheriff Howe French hopeful, faces G. W. (Dub) O'Neal for election to the remainder of French's unexpired

Two other contests appear on the Democratic ballot, James (Jim) Wilson vs. Robert Calvert for State Comptroller and Charles Hart vs. Mrs. Ronald Smith for State Board of Education.

Polling places for Saturday's election will be the same as for the May 6 primary. A complete list will appear in Friday's Daily Sun along with a map of precinct boundary lines; some confusion

Smoke Damages Busy Bee Stock

All contents of the Busy Bee Grocery, S. 15th St. at W. 13th Ave., were heavily damaged by heat and smoke from a fire which broke out shortly after closing Tuesday. Fire was confined to the store's check-out stand, where it apparently started.

Bill Talkington, assistant fire marshal, said the blaze was believed caused either by electrical wiring leading to the check-out counter, or from a cigarette dropped undetected into a cardboard box. Fire Chief Charlie Tieman was conducting a follow-up investigation Wednesday to determine the cause.

Talkington said the fire had built up considerable heat and generated dense smoke that penetrated throughout the building, damaging its contents, before it was detected and an alarm turned in at 6:20 p.m.

"A little bit more and it could have spread throughout the store," he said. Meanwhile, firemen said a blaze firemen fought for more than two hours Tuesday morning destroyed a five or six room house at 600 E. 17th Ave. occupied by Louis C. Grant. Firemen were hampered in efforts to knock down the fire when they had trouble with a pump on a truck and had to send for another pumper unit.

The County Clerk also said that voting supplies for the second primary election will be available Thursday in his office for precinct judges to pick up. He added that his office and the office of 13th District Clerk C. O. "Bud" Currington will be open from 8 a.m. until noon Sunday to receive the ballot boxes after arose in the primary with voters who sought to cast their ballots in the wrong box, so county chairman John Beck has asked that a map be published. As before, the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Republicans won't have as much paper work to involve their attentions. Only one race, the governor's, will be decided from among two Houstonians, Albert Fay and Henry Grover.

GOP chairman Dr. R. L. Campbell said Tuesday the county commissioners courtroom in the courthouse will be used as the polling place again. A sign directing Republican voters to the courtroom will be in the lobby to help avoid some of the confusion from the first primary. One of the Democratic precinct boxes is also in the courthouse. Voters are being cautioned against voting in a different primary than they did on May 6. To cross over from one party's primary to the other is illegal, and the Secretary of State's office has promised to prosecute any violators.

The Daily Sun will again provide Sunday readers with complete returns in all local races. Democratic County Chairman John Beck will be in The Daily Sun offices late Saturday night to help with the returns. (He will not be here earlier in the day, it should be noted to avoid the rash of telephone calls the newspaper office got for him during the day of the primary election.)

would like to reverse the process. For if you will look over into the bleachers, I will reintroduce you to some of the most remarkable people ever to walk the earth; people you might want to thank on this graduation day your parents and grandparents.

Let me tell you about them. These---your parents and grandparents—are the people who within just five decades have by their work increased your life. expectancy by approximately 50 per cent and who, while cutting working day by a third, have more than doubled per-capita output.

These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. And because of this you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles or mumps that they knew in their youth. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while tuberculosis is almost unheard of.

Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is to be really poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined it would not happen to you, that you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed than they had.

Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably best looking generation to inhabit the land.

And because of them, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have leisure time, travel to more distant places and have more of a. chance to follow your life's ambition.

These also are the people who fought man's grisliest war. They are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, and who, when it was over, had the compassion to spend billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild the homelands. And these are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

Hargrove said that, during the past five months, littering and trash pollution have "really become a problem." He said many new residents have come into the lake area for recreation purposes and the need for a dump area has increased.
